Welcome to our October Issue

Be KIND

It is always sobering to remember that we see events such as Mental Health week 8-14 October, and you will find more information about it below. 2018 is almost over and we are all wondering if we are heading into a hotter summer than last. Good for our industry but adding pressure on you and your businesses. 2018 has been a tough year for many businesses in fact with several significant receiverships adding financial pressure to some members. This is where I say, look after yourselves, don't hesitate to speak up and ask for advice of us and your peers, we all go through bad patches at some stages in our lives or businesses and some cope differently to others. What should not change is how we support one another.

Health & Safety

Noise in the Workplace

Noise at work can be harmful to hearing, but hearing loss is preventable if you adopt noise control measures, and create an environment that protects the health of your workers.

The health of your workers is just as important as the health of your business. As a business owner, you have a duty to prevent harm to your workers' health. One way that workers can be harmed at work is through exposure to noise.
